

Therapy without drugs

METROPLUS

The Hindu, Monday, February, 2002.

PEOPLE, THESE days, are taking a great deal of interest in alternative therapies. One among them is acupressure.

The Acupressure Club, Bangalore, has now come up with a scheme to create awareness among people about this "drugless therapy". As the first step of this programme, the club will focus on diabetes.

The club plans to provide free treatment for diabetic patients for one year on a monthly basis. Headed by Dr. H. Bhojaraj, the campaign begins in the third week of February in Rajajinagar, Jayanagar, Koramangala, and Indiranagar.

Those interested in this therapy will have to register themselves with the club.

They will also get a copy of the Acupressure Newsletter, published by the club.

For details contact 6644012 or e-mail the club on manasjnr@satyam.net.in